Eat, drink, and sleep near the HDI Arena

The HDI Arena is located in a pleasant area surrounded by other sports facilities, parks, and the Schützenplatz Hannover, a large fairground.

There are a few eating and drinking options directly near the stadium, and many more a short walk away in Hanover's city centre.

If you wish to stay close to the stadium and have a large budget, the Courtyard by Marriott Hannover Maschsee will likely have your preference as a hotel. For those on a tighter budget, Hotel Ahrberg Viertel is an option just west of the stadium.

You could also pick a hotel on the southern edge of the city centre, from where it is about 10 minutes walking to the stadium. Garni Hotel Reverey, Mercure Hotel Hannover City, and Lühmanns Hotel am Rathaus all get good reviews and are reasonably priced.

Hannover Tickets

Tickets for Hannover 96 matches can be bought online, by phone +49 (0) 1805 1896 00, at the Fanshop at the HDI Arena, at the Fanshop at the Rathenaustraße 21 in the city centre, or at one of the other authorised sales points, of which several in Hanover's city centre.

If tickets remain available, these can be bought at the ticket windows of the stadium on the day of the match. In the Bundesliga, Hannover typically sell out about half of their league matches in a season, but in the 2. Bundesliga they only sell out the local derbies.

Tickets prices start at €20.00 for a seat behind the goal and range up to €40.00 for a central seat at the main stand. Standing costs €12.00.

You can find a seating plan here.

Stadium tours

Hannover 96 organise guided stadium tours of the HDI Arena that include the VIP areas, mixed zone, and press room. The tours last between 70 and 90 minutes.

Tours typically only run a few times a month. Check the official website for the current schedule and to book online. Email stadionfuehrung@hannover96.de or call +49 (0) 511 96900 400 for more information.
